TRYING TO SETTLE
STRIKE IN ALASKA

Hywel Davies.

Hywel Davies of Kentucky, strike pacifist, is now in Alaska seeking to end the strike in progress on the government railroad which is now being built. Davies has an enviable record as a strike-settler, for he had the men in the Ohio coal fields working within a month after tackling the job, and the Colorado strike was not settled until he took a hand under the direction of the United States government.

the lyceum star, friend of Tolstol, and author of "The Trail of the Immigrant," and other works of national popularity. He has now held the same charge for five years.

For three successive seasons Dr. Evans has lectured at the largest Chautauqua assembly in Ohio, in such big company as Hills, Conwell, Gunsaulus, and others as well known. His first extended lyceum season was such a success—one of the greatest in the long history of the bureau—that he has been induced to give up his church in the near future, and will then devote his time exclusively to lecturing and to literary pursuits. No man on the platform today is in greater demand.

ANOTHER

County Convict Becomes Tired of Working and Runs Away.

Another county convict made his escape Wednesday morning. He is Charles Townsend, who had served five months of a half-year sentence imposed for violating the prohibition law and he escaped from the county infirmary, where he had been assisting in the planting of farm crops.

Townsend was arrested by Broad Oaks authorities for fighting and when searched, a bottle of whiskey was found in one of his pockets. He was convicted of violating the Yost law by having whiskey in a public place and drew the minimum penalty, the fine and costs of which he had to work out. Officers have not yet found trace of Richard Maulsby, the negro convict who escaped Tuesday noon from a road gang on the Bridgeport road.

ULTIMATUM

with what the government of the United States must consider the sacred and indisputable rules of international law and the universally recognized dictates of humanity, the government of the United States is at last forced to the conclusion that there is but one course it can pursue; and that unless the imperial German government should now immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of warfare against passenger and freight carrying vessels this government can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the government of the German empire altogether.

The president closed his address with an expression of regret that this step had been necessary and added: "I have taken it and taken it in the confidence that it will meet with your approval and support. All sober-minded men must unite in hoping that the imperial German government, which has in other circumstances stood as the champion of all that we are now contending for in the interests of humanity, may recognize the justice of our demands and meet them in the spirit in which they are made."

CORNWELL SPEAKS.

John J. Cornwell, of Romney, spoke in the court house here Tuesday night

PERSONS

In the county, does not charge the person in whose possession the suit case, trunk or container is alleged to be, with manufacturing, selling, etc., nor with having, keeping or carrying such liquors unlawfully, nor with any other offense under the statute.

Chapter 13 of the acts of 1913, as amended by chapter 7 of the acts of 1915, does not make it unlawful for a citizen to carry or transport one-half of one gallon of intoxicating liquors, without a statutory label or more with such label on, and along any public highway, to his home for his personal use there.

A justice's docket entry of judgment in a criminal case need not recite findings of fact sufficient to constitute an offense, and a person under conviction by such a judgment will not be discharged on a writ of habeas corpus for lack of such recital; but such docket entries are only prima facie evidence of the jurisdictional facts essential to a valid conviction.

A plea of guilty to a void warrant involves no admission of guilt and does not preclude discharge on a writ of habeas corpus.

Discharge of such writ, of a person prosecuting a writ of error to a judgment refusing him an appeal from the judgment under which he is legally restrained of his liberty, terminates the controversy involved in the writ error, and it will be dismissed on such discharge, as then involving only a moot case.

A person under conviction of a criminal offense by a justice of the peace is entitled to an appeal within a reasonable time, as a matter of right.

Such an appeal should be allowed by the justice who rendered the judgment, if applied for within a reasonable time, and, if he refuses it, application therefor may be made to the circuit court of the county, or the judge thereof in vacation.

Refusal of the justice to allow such an appeal is sufficient cause for allowance thereof by such court or judge, and refusal thereof by the latter, under such circumstances, justifies a writ of error from this court to the judgment of refusal.

A doubt arising on the evidence as to whether such preliminary application was made to the justice should be resolved in favor of the applicant for the appeal.

until the use of foods which lack certain nutritive elements supplied by the field grains, will result in decreased mental and physical activity—often ill health.

There is one food that supplies in splendid proportion these vital mineral elements—phosphate of potash, etc.—so necessary for keeping one physically and mentally vigorous.

That food is
